President Cleveland and party, who have been on a hunting trip through North Carolina waters, will probably pass through this harbor to day on the lighthouse steamer Violet.

The party left the neighborhood of Hatteras Tuesday afternoon and spent yesterday in Currituck sound killing ducks and other game. They will leave the sound early this morning and come through the locks, probably reaching here shortly after noon.

It is probable a short stop will be made at the buoy yard in Portsmouth and the Violet will proceed to Washington. President Cleveland has had very good luck on the trip, although he has not found such an abundance of game as on his last trip, a year ago.

RESOLUTIONS CONDEMNATORY.

The W. C. T. U. Enters a Protest Against the Press.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union of Norfolk at a meeting held yesterday discussed the over working of children in some places where they are employed, the law of the State limiting children's work to ten hours per day.

At the instance of a committee from Portsmouth the following resolution was adopted expressing the views of the association upon another matter they considered of vital importance and calculated to do untold harm:

"Resolved, That we do hereby most heartily condemn the wholesale publication in our daily papers of all the disgusting details of crime such as have engrossed our papers recently, inasmuch as these papers are read in our homes by the children and youth of our city, thereby tending to deteriorate the better tone of our homes."

THE VIRGINIAN has at all times and under all circumstances strenuously avoided publishing language which could not be read with propriety by children of the most tender years.

THE VIRGINIAN feels that in publishing resolutions of condemnation the ladies did not intend to refer to any publication in this paper recent or remote.

AMUSEMENTS.

E. H. SOTHERN.—The Academy of Music will be filled to-night by one of the most fashionable and cultured audiences of the season to witness the presentation for the first time in Norfolk of Mr. Sothern's greatest success, "Capt. Lettrelair."

Mr. Sothern made on former visits to Norfolk decided successes in "The Highest Bidder" and "Lord Chumley," and became a popular favorite with our theatre goers, but his "Capt. Lettrelair" will stamp him the greatest favorite of all. There will be nothing in the Academy used, as Mr. Sothern brings all the scenery, etc., used in the New York production. Those who have not secured seats should do so at once and not miss seeing "Capt. Lettrelair."

WEAK NERVES EPIDEMIC

Weak Nerves Will Surely Break You Down.

Nerves Are the Very Foundation of Strength and Endurance—If Your Nerves Are Weak, Lose No Time in Getting Them Strong.

You are growing older every day, and if you do not wish the unpropitious years as they roll on their relentless way, to rob you of your hopes and joys, your pleasures, your ambitions, your very strength and energies, keep your nerves strong and vigorous.

It is the nerves which soonest wear out. You thoughtlessly use them in work, pleasure or dissipation, and suddenly wake to find yourself broken down—that only your body remains, bereft of strength, energy and power, a mere wreck of what you were and with only drowsiness, pain, weakness and discontent your future portion. Then you realize the immeasurable depth of bitterness in Longfellow's lines:

"Oh, sudden thrills of fire and frost! The work is bright while we remain, And dark and dead when we are lost."

Health, hope, happiness—everything is dependent upon strong and vigorous nerves. It is weak nerves which give to the young, fits, convulsions, hysteria, St. Vitus' dance, and the myriad nervous affections of youth. It is weak nerves which make women constantly tired, irritable, nervous, dispirited, dragged out and miserable. It is weak nerves which conquer men in their struggle for mastery in the world, which render them nerveless, strengthless, powerless, with dull-fading heads, shaking, shattered and unsteady nerves, without appetite or good digestion, enfeebled from sleepless nights and wretched and discouraged from trying days. It is weak nerves which make age a curse instead of a blessing—a body, a casket from which every power and energy has fled, leaving only weakness, despair and utter weariness.

If there is any device, which above another, should sink into the heart, it is the admonition to keep your nerves strong. Hence, the words of Mrs. Eliza E. Clements, of 126 Bright street, Indianapolis, Ind., should have weight with everyone.

"I was afflicted for six years with nervous debility. I could not sleep nights, and I was in a terrible condition. I had heart trouble, and it beat so hard I thought I should die. I was in constant misery and could do no work."

"I had heard much talk about the wonders of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and now made up my mind to take it. I had given myself up for lost, but began to improve immediately under the use of this marvelous medicine."

THE PEOPLE'S CYCLOPEDIA.

It is the best mapped, treats a greater number of subjects than any other cyclopaedia. In mechanical execution it is superior to any reference work now before the public. The terms upon which it is offered, puts it within the reach of every person. What a distinguished educator and divine says of it: W. H. Scott, LL.D., President Ohio State University, Columbus, O., says: "I have purchased the People's Cyclopaedia after a careful investigation, and find it the latest, the most complete, and the most satisfactory reference book that has been brought to my attention. It is concise, clear, and comprehensive."

Rev. John A. Broadus, D.D., LL.D., says: "By reason of inquiries from students and others, we have tried to determine the comparative merits of the larger and smaller Cyclopedias now before the public. We are persuaded that young ministers, teachers, journalists, lawyers, physicians, business men, and heads of families would find it wiser at present to buy one of the cheap Cyclopedias. Decidedly the best work of the kind now accessible is The People's Cyclopaedia."

Quite a number of washouts are reported on railroads in that section and all trains are behind time.

COLD WAVE COMING.

The Temperature Will Drop Several Degrees.

The United States weather observer at 11 o'clock last night reported that a cold wave is coming this way, and that the temperature will fall 15 or 20 degrees by to-night. The weather will be fair.

REVIVAL MEETINGS.

Growing in Interest Daily. Large Congregations.

The revival meetings were well attended last night in spite of the rain. Dr. Lettrelair had a large congregation at Granby Street Methodist Church and preached an effective sermon.

Dr. L. G. Broughton preached a most impressive and thrilling sermon at Freeman Street Baptist Church last night. Several conversions and many enquirers reported. He will conduct a Bible reading this afternoon on "How to Lead a Soul to Christ," and will preach at 7:30.

A meeting of great interest was held at the First Baptist Church last night. There were a large number of conversions and many requests for prayer. Some persons were received for baptism. Dr. Hatcher preached on "The Great Physician."

Marine Matters.

The Lighthouse Board gives notice that on March 6th, 1895, the schooner Drift was moored as a light vessel in about twenty-four feet of water on the west side of Chesapeake bay and off the south side of the entrance to the Potomac river. The vessel lies about one and one-half nautical miles S.E. of the former site of Smith Point light-house (carried away by ice February 11th) and in the position heretofore occupied by Smith Point Shoal buoy No. 12, discontinued on the establishment of a light vessel.

The Drift shows two fixed white lights, one at each end of the hull. She is without topmasts and jibboom and the spars are black. Her hull is red and marked "Smith Point" in large white letters on each side. During thick or foggy weather a bell will be rung by hand.

Tangent to N. shore, Smith Point, N.W. by W. 1/2 W.

A black wood spar buoy, numbered 19, has been moored as a marker in thirty feet of water, about 300 feet to the eastward of the light vessel.

The Lighthouse Board gives notice that the heavy floating ice in New York lower bay having disappeared, the electric buoys in Gateway channel Nos. G-1, G-2, G-3, G-4, G-5 and G-6 have been relighted. The electric buoy on South-west spit, No. 12, will not be relighted till further notice.
